THE REGISTRAR GENERAL'S

WEEKLY RETURN FOR ENGLAND AND WALES

BIRTHS AND DEATHS INFECTIOUS DISEASES WEATHER

Week Ended

Saturday, 8th January 1966

LONDON

TWO SHILLINGS NET

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

 NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Mainly cloudy with periods of rain during morning, becoming continuous heavy. Winds Southerly, veering to Westerly, gentle to fresh breeze.

Monday—Variable amounts of cloud with periods of sunshine. Winds N.W'ly, light to moderate breeze.

Tuesday—Freezing fog at first, fog becoming dense for a time, dispersing before mid-morning. Winds East to S.E. light to gentle breeze.

Wednesday—Cloudy with periods of slight drizzle during morning. Winds Southerly, gentle to moderate breeze.

Thursday—Variable amounts of cloud with frost early morning and evening. Winds S.E'ly, light to gentle breeze.

Friday—Variable amounts of cloud with frost and fog early morning. Shallow fog patches forming early evening, becoming thick fog, dense at times. Winds S.E'ly, light breeze.

Saturday—Cloudy with frost and thick fog early. Frost again forming early evening to midnight. Winds Easterly, light to gentle breeze.

The reading of the barometer rose from 985.5 mbs. at beginning of week to 1029.3 mbs. at 10.15 hrs. on 6th, and then fell to 1018.4 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

* The Abbreviated List numbers are those set out on pages 381-2 of the International Classification of Diseases, 1955. The further breakdown indicated by small letters after the numbers is one used in the General Register Office; the corresponding numbers in the full List are shown in brackets after the description of the causes.

TABLE IV. Notifications of Infectious Diseases in the week ended 14th January 1966England and Wales. Administrative Areas and Port Health Districts

Note: Where no return has been received an asterisk * is inserted in the columns. Totals shown against the names of counties include any associated county boroughs. Letters in the "Others" column denote the diseases so lettered in the summary headings.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Variable amounts of cloud with frost early to mid-morning. Winds Easterly, gentle to moderate.

Monday—Small amounts of cloud at first, soon becoming cloudy. Cold. Winds Easterly, gentle to fresh gusting to gale force at times.

Tuesday—Mainly cloudy with frost early morning to mid-evening. Winds N.E'ly, moderate to strong breeze, gusting to fresh gale at times.

Wednesday—Cloudy with periods of slight snow and drizzle during morning, and slight snow shower during afternoon. Winds N.E'ly, moderate to fresh breeze.

Thursday—Cloudy generally, with a period of slight snow during morning. Winds N.E'ly, light to moderate.

Friday—Variable amounts of cloud with periods of slight snow showers during afternoon. Cold. Winds N.E'ly, light to moderate.

Saturday—Variable amounts of cloud, with light continuous snow from early to late evening. Cold. Winds North-easterly, light to gentle breeze.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1018.2 mbs. at beginning of week to 1033.1 mbs. at 10.30 hrs. on 13th and fell to 1019.4 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS—ENGLAND AND WALES—DECEMBER QUARTER 1965 AND YEAR 1965

Birth occurrences and Deaths registered in England and Wales, in the Quarter ended 31st December 1965 and in the year 1965, with comparative figures for three earlier years. (The customary analysis will appear in the Quarterly Return in due course).

otes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy with periods of snow from early morning to close of period. Winds Northerly, light to moderate.

Monday—Overcast with periods of light snow from early morning to mid-afternoon. Winds Northerly, light to gentle breeze.

Tuesday—Cloud quickly dispersing to give a very cold, sunny day. Winds East to S.E'ly, gentle to moderate breeze.

Wednesday—Small amounts of high cloud, increasing during evening to become cloudy. Very cold with sunny periods. Winds Easterly, light to moderate.

Thursday—Overcast with periods of sleet, snow, drizzle or rain during day. Fog forming early afternoon, dispersing by mid-evening. Winds East to N.E'ly, gentle to fresh breeze.

Friday—Overcast with periods of fog or drizzle during morning. Winds light variable.

Saturday—Cloudy with periods of rain, drizzle or fog. Poor visibility throughout period. Winds Easterly, gentle to moderate.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1019.4 mbs. at beginning of week to 988.1 mbs. at 14.45 hrs. on 20th, rose to 997.3 mbs. at 18.00 hrs. on 21st and fell to 986.1 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

 NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| Monthly | Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month. |
| Quarterly | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.) |
| Annual | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. |

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

§ Excludes deaths from diphtheria, except secondary to accidents and to other infections (including influenza).

* Numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

† Numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of all non-residents. Returns of stillbirths not made for these towns.

‡ There were no deaths from diphtheria.

§ Best available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1965.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Saturday—Cloudy throughout with periods of rain during morning and again mid-evening, becoming heavy at ti Very mild. Winds Southerly, moderate to fresh breeze, gusting to fresh gale at times.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1007·7 mbs. at beginning of week to 1012·7 mbs. at 00.01 hrs. on 25th, to 997·6 mbs. at 15.40 hrs. on 26th, rose to 1014·4 mbs. at 23.05 hrs. on 27th, and fell to 996·7 mbs. at end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern o barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in col 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values der from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years e 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly der from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the aver

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of b sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Variable amounts of cloud with periods of rain from mid-evening to close of period. Mild, with a small amount of sunshine. Winds S.W'y, light to gentle breeze.

Monday—Overcast with periods of rain, drizzle and fog during morning and afternoon. Mild. Winds light variable.

Tuesday—Cloudy with a period of slight drizzle early morning. Very mild. Winds Southerly, backing to S.E'y, light to gentle breeze.

Wednesday—Mainly cloudy, but with short periods of sunshine. Mild. Winds S.E'y, veering to Westerly, light to moderate breeze.

Thursday—Mainly cloudy with shallow fog patches early, developing into fog for a short while, dispersing before morning. Periods of slight rain from late afternoon to late evening. Winds S.W'y, light to moderate.

Friday—Cloudy with periods of rain, drizzle or rain and drizzle during morning and afternoon. Brief heavy rain during afternoon. Winds S.W'y, gentle to fresh breeze.

Saturday—Overcast with periods of rain or drizzle. Winds S.W'y, moderate to strong breeze, gusting to gale force at times.

The reading of the barometer rose from 999.3 mbs. at beginning of week to 1018.5 mbs. at 11.45 hrs. on 1st, fell to 1009.2 mbs. at 06.00 hrs. on 2nd, rose to 1019.3 mbs. at 10.35 hrs. on 3rd and fell to 1008.7 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy with periods of rain during morning and afternoon, becoming fine by mid-evening. Winds S.W. light to gentle breeze.

Monday—Overcast with periods of rain during afternoon and evening, ceasing late in period. Winds S.W'y, light moderate breeze.

Tuesday—Mainly cloudy with a small amount of sunshine, periods of rain early morning, showers during afternoon followed by rain early evening, briefly heavy. Winds S.W'y, moderate to fresh breeze.

Wednesday—Cloudy with periods of showers, rain drizzle and hail, rain becoming heavy at times, ceasing late evening. Winds light variable.

Thursday—Overcast with periods of rain or drizzle, rain becoming heavy at times, ceasing mid-evening. Winds N.E. gentle breeze.

Friday—Cloudy with periods of slight intermittent drizzle during morning and evening. Winds Northerly, gentle breeze.

Saturday—Overcast with periods of rain, or rain and drizzle, during morning and slight drizzle mid-evening. Winds Northerly, light to moderate breeze.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1005.0 mbs. at beginning of week to 1010.7 mbs. at 10.45 hrs. on 7th, fell to 989.7 mbs. at 14.00 hrs. on 8th, rose to 999.7 mbs. at 20.00 hrs. on 9th, fell to 988.0 mbs. at 15.00 hrs. on 10th, then rose to 1002.1 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy with a period of slight snow during morning. Winds Northerly, gentle to moderate breeze.

Monday—Cloudy with slight snow shower shortly after mid-day. Winds Northerly, gradually veering to S.E'ly, light breeze.

Tuesday—Overcast with periods of slight rain during morning and afternoon. Winds East to S.E'ly, gentle to moderate breeze.

Wednesday—Mainly cloudy with haze for a time. Winds Easterly, moderate to fresh breeze, gusting to moderate gale at times.

Thursday—Mainly cloudy with a sunny period early afternoon. Visibility good. Winds N.E'ly, gentle to moderate breeze.

Friday—Cloudy with intermittent rain, becoming continuous from noon. Rather cold. Moderate Easterly winds.

Saturday—Mainly cloudy but sunny periods late morning. Rain at first and again in evening. Visibility excellent. Wind Easterly, veering to S.W'ly, moderate breeze. Mild.

The reading of the barometer rose from 996.3 mbs. to 1015.6 mbs. at 22.30 hrs. on 14th, then fell to 1002.9 mbs. at 16.00 hrs. on 16th, rose to 1015.2 mbs. at 00.01 hrs. on 18th, then fell to 993.4 mbs. on 19th.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ended 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—A few bright periods in afternoon, otherwise cloudy with rain. Visibility good. Winds S.S.E. to S.S.W'ly moderate breeze. Mild.

Monday—Mainly cloudy with occasional rain in morning, showers in evening. Visibility good or very good. Winds South to S.S.E'ly, light to moderate breeze.

Tuesday—Mainly cloudy with frequent showers until dusk. Visibility good or very good. Winds S.E. to S.W'ly, fresh to strong.

Wednesday—Fine becoming cloudy late afternoon. Visibility very good, becoming moderate in rain. Winds S.W. to S.S.W'ly, moderate breeze, becoming light in evening.

Thursday—After a clear night it became cloudy with rain during morning. Visibility moderate to good. Winds S.E. to S.W'ly.

Friday—Overcast until early evening with periods of rain and drizzle. Some clear periods in evening. Visibility good. Winds S.S.W., fresh to strong, gusting to strong gale in afternoon. Continuing mild.

Saturday—Sunny intervals, frequent showers, one of hail late morning. Visibility good. Winds S.S.W'ly, strong, gusting to gale at times.

The reading of the barometer fell from 992.1 mbs. at 00.01 hrs. on 20th to 975.2 mbs. at 09.00 hrs. on 22nd, then rose to 1007.0 mbs. at 08.00 hrs. on 24th, fell again to 990.6 mbs. at 14.40 hrs. on 25th, and finally rose to 1004.6 mbs. at midnight on 26th.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ended 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.
2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.
3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.
4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.
5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.
6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.
- Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)
- Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Except secondary to accidents and to other infections (including influenza).

The numbers of deaths are provisionally corrected by transfer to place of normal residence if this is in Scotland.

The numbers of births and deaths are provisionally corrected by the exclusion of all non-residents. Returns of stillbirths are not made for these towns.

There were no deaths from diphtheria.

Latest available estimates. In the case of England and Wales and the parts thereof they relate to 30th June, 1965.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Mainly fair. A shower early afternoon. Wind S.W'ly, fresh to strong. Mild.

Monday—Fine becoming cloudy during morning with showers late afternoon. Wind S.W'ly, veering slowly to W.N.W'ly. light to moderate breeze.

Tuesday—Fine during night becoming cloudy by 09.00 hrs. with rain from late afternoon. Wind S.W'ly, light to moderate breeze.

Wednesday—Cloudy. Wind S.S.W. to S.W'ly, light to moderate breeze.

Thursday—Cloudy with rain until dawn, becoming mainly cloudy with showers in afternoon. Hail at times. Wind S.S.W. to S.W., light.

Friday—Variable cloud with good periods of sunshine following thick fog early. Cooler with light to moderate S.W'ly winds veering slowly N.W'ly.

Saturday—Small amounts of cloud all day. Long sunny periods. Ground fog patches early. Mild, light West or N.W'ly winds.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1003.5 mbs. at 00.01 hrs. on 27th to 1023.9 mbs. at 11.00 hrs. on 1st, fell to 1010.5 mbs. on 3rd, then rose again to 1027.4 mbs. at 22.00 hrs. on 5th.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ended 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

LONDON

TWO SHILLINGS NET

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

 NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

* The Abbreviated List numbers are those set out on pages 381-2 of the International Classification of Diseases, 1955. The further breakdown indicated by small letters after the numbers is one used in the General Register Office; the corresponding numbers in the full List are shown in brackets after the description of the causes.

TABLE IV. Notifications of Infectious Diseases in the } England and Wales. Administrative week ended 11th March 1966 } Areas and Port Health Districts

Note: Where no return has been received an asterisk * is inserted in the columns. Totals shown against the names of counties include any associated county boroughs. Letters in the "Others" column denote the diseases so lettered in the summary headings.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Fair to cloudy, becoming clear in evening. Wind West to South-West, light to moderate breeze.

Monday—Becoming cloudy, then fine from mid-afternoon. Wind S.S.W. to S.W., light.

Tuesday—Low cloud soon dispersed to give continuous sunshine from mid-morning to mid-afternoon. Thereafter cloud increased to give drizzle and rain by mid-evening. Remaining very mild with light to moderate W'ly winds.

Wednesday—Fair to cloudy with excellent visibility. Wind N.W.-N., becoming S.W., light breeze.

Thursday—Becoming dull and cloudy during the night with occasional mainly light rain in the morning and light rain and drizzle in the afternoon. Mild. Winds moderate or fresh, West or South-West.

Friday—Cloud and rain overnight gave way to a sunny morning. Sunny periods and scattered showers followed in the afternoon. Moderate or fresh W'ly winds gusted to gale force at times. Excellent visibility.

Saturday—Rather cloudy at times, but with good sunny periods throughout. A brief shower in the early morning. Somewhat colder than of late. Winds moderate Northerly, falling light.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1028.5 mbs. at beginning of the week to 1022.8 mbs. at 17.15 hrs. on 8th, then rose to 1025.6 mbs. at 08.00 hrs. on 9th fell to 1009.3 mbs. at 18.00 hrs. on 11th, then rose to 1023.3 mbs. at the end of the week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ended 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| Monthly | Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month. |
| Quarterly | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.) |
| Annual | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. |

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloud amounts increased quickly during the morning following a cold, clear night. Skies cleared again during the evening with frost forming. Light N.W'y winds throughout.

Monday—Low cloud and mist formed in the early hours and persisted until mid-morning. Its clearance allowed sunny intervals before more cloudy conditions developed in the afternoon and persisted. Mild with light Westerly winds.

Tuesday—Mainly cloudy with a few brief sunny intervals during the morning. Rather warm during the afternoon. Winds light North Westerly.

Wednesday—Cloudy throughout with a period of fog around dawn and some brief sunny intervals in the afternoon. Rather warm with very light winds, mainly from the South West.

Thursday—Soon becoming cloudy after a fine night with ground fog and frost. A little light rain late evening followed by clearing skies. Rather warm afternoon. Winds Westerly, light or moderate.

Friday—Cloudy during night, becoming fine and warm. Winds Northerly, moderate to fresh.

Saturday—Cloudy becoming fine by mid-afternoon. Winds light to moderate North Easterly. Ground frost late in evening.

The reading of the barometer rose steadily from 1023.3 mbs. on the 13th to 1034.2 mbs. at 11.00 hrs. on the 16th. Pressure then fell to 1029.6 mbs. at 23.00 hrs. on the 17th and then rose to 1043.0 mbs. by the end of the week.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ended 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Overnight fog and frost cleared by mid-morning and thereafter mainly cloudless skies and unbroken sunshi prevailed, making for a warm afternoon. Winds light throughout and mainly S.W'ly.

Monday—Becoming cloudy by dawn. Cloud persisting until near the close allowing only brief sunny intervals in t early afternoon. Rather warm by day, but with ground frost early and late. Winds light or moderate S.W'ly, becomi N.W'ly late in the day.

Tuesday—Cloud increased quickly during the morning after a cold, clear night. Rather cool with light to moder W'ly winds.

Wednesday—Rather cloudy throughout. Slight showers late morning and early afternoon, becoming more general a heavier towards evening. Clearing skies at the close. Moderate W'ly winds throughout.

Thursday—Convective cloud developed rapidly during the morning with a succession of squally showers of rain, hail a snow in the afternoon and early evening. Becoming fine at the close. Cold, with fresh to strong N.W'ly winds gusting strong gale.

Friday—Clouds developed steadily through the morning leading to occasional showers of snow in the afternoon. Clo amounts decreased again in the evening. Cold, with moderate to fresh N.W'ly winds that became squally in the heav showers.

Saturday—Cloudy with snow turning to rain by dawn. Intermittent rain or drizzle for rest of daylight hours, th cloud breaking late evening. Light to moderate S.W'ly winds.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1041.7 mbs. at beginning of week to 1008.1 mbs. at 18.00 hrs. on 24th, then r to 1020.0 mbs. at 15.00 hrs. on 25th, then fell to 992.5 mbs. at 16.35 hrs. on 26th.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of t barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in colu 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values deriv from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years en 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly deri from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the avera

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bri sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.
2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.
3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.
4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.
5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.
6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.
- Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)
- Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
- Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Rather cloudy but with sunny intervals. Occasional rain, briefly heavy in the morning and scattered showers in late afternoon and evening. Strong Westerly winds gusting to whole gale.

Monday—Variable amounts of cloud throughout with sunny periods. Occasional showers from early afternoon to late evening—falling as sleet at times. Rather cold, with moderate or fresh N.W'ly winds gusting to strong gale.

Tuesday—After a fine clear night, small amounts of cloud developed giving long sunny periods. Rather cold. With moderate N.W'ly winds.

Wednesday—Mainly cloudy, though some bright intervals during the morning. A little warmer with moderate W winds.

Thursday—Mainly cloudy with a few spots of rain late afternoon. Wind W.-S.W., mainly light breeze.

Friday—Cloud amounts decreased gradually during the day giving some sunny intervals in the afternoon. Became mainly cloudy in evening with a little light rain late. Winds moderate or fresh.

Saturday—Mainly cloudy with rain and drizzle early morning and scattered showers in afternoon, then further rain in mid-afternoon to mid-evening. Colder with moderate Northerly winds.

The reading of the barometer rose from 982.4 mbs. at 11.00 hrs. on the 27th, to 1022.1 mbs. at 00.01 hrs. on 30th, then fell to 1007.6 mbs. at 12.10 hrs. on 2nd April.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Number of Deaths and Death Rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer—1965

The provisional numbers of deaths and death rates per million population for England and Wales during the year 1965 are as follows—

	NUMBER			RATE
	Males	Females	Persons	Males	Females	Persons
Respiratory Tuberculosis	1,500	508	2,008	65	21	42
Other Tuberculosis	141	133	274	6	5	6
Cancer of lung and bronchus	22,231	4,168	26,399	957	170	553
Other Cancer	35,233	44,706	79,939	1,517	1,822	1,674

Maternal Mortality—1965

The provisional numbers of deaths and death rates per 1,000 total live and stillbirths in England and Wales are:—

	Number	Rate
Maternal causes, excluding abortion	166	0.19
Due to abortion	53	0.06
Total maternal mortality	219	0.25
Estimated female population age 15—44 at 30th June 1965 ...	9,455,300

Neonatal Mortality—1965

The deaths of infants under 4 weeks in England and Wales during 1965 numbered 11,200, representing a rate of 13.0 per 1,000 live births.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy and cold throughout with a little light rain and drizzle in the morning. Winds moderate Northeasterly.

Monday—Overcast, continuing cold. Winds Easterly, light, increasing to moderate to fresh by mid-afternoon.

Tuesday—Cloudy or dull for entire period with extensive haze. Periods of light rain in the early morning, rain and drizzle in the afternoon with heavier rain in the evening. Rather cold with moderate Easterly winds.

Wednesday—Cloudy overnight with outbreaks of rain, some heavy. Scattered showers followed in the morning and early afternoon, dying out by evening with skies clearing. Thick fog developed at the close, much warmer. Winds South-westerly, moderate, becoming variable.

Thursday—Mainly overcast. Early fog soon dispersed with long periods of rain from near dawn to mid-day and again in the late afternoon and evening. Rather warm and humid with light to moderate Easterly winds.

Friday—Dull overnight with periods of rain, quickly followed by fog which dispersed in the early morning. Sunny intervals occurred until early afternoon with a shower mid-afternoon. Further cloud clearances at the close. Winds light, mainly Southeasterly.

Saturday—Quickly becoming cloudy with periods of rain lasting until mid-afternoon. Some of the rain was heavy. Brief sunny intervals occurred during the remainder of the afternoon. Warm and humid. Winds light to moderate Easterly, veering Southwesterly.

The reading of the barometer: Pressure rose from 1015.1 mbs. to 1019.8 mbs. at 22.20 hrs. on the 3rd, then fell to 1000.8 mbs. at 02.00 hrs. on the 6th. Pressure then rose to 1005.5 mbs. by midnight on the 6th and fell to 991.2 mbs. on the 9th.

Explanatory Notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ended 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS—ENGLAND AND WALES—MARCH QUARTER 1966

Birth occurrences and Deaths registered in England and Wales in the Quarter ended 31st March 1966, with comparative figures for the First Quarter of three earlier years. (The customary analysis will appear in the Quarterly Return in due course.)

* The Abbreviated List numbers are those set out on pages 381-2 of the International Classification of Diseases, 1955. The further breakdown indicated by small letters after the numbers is one used in the General Register Office; the corresponding numbers in the full List are shown in brackets after the description of the causes.

Note: Where no return has been received an asterisk * is inserted in the columns. Totals shown against the names of counties include any associated county boroughs. Letters in the "Others" column denote the diseases so lettered in the summary headings.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Dry with sunny periods by day. Outbreaks of rain, briefly heavy at the close. Warm, with light S.W. winds falling to calm in the evening.

Monday—Cloudy, becoming dull. Occasional light rain during the morning with longer periods of rain in the afternoon and evening. Rather cold with moderate N.E'ly winds setting in.

Tuesday—Mainly cloudy and cold with a period of light drizzle in the evening. Winds increasing to become moderate N.E'ly.

Wednesday—Cloudy with a little drizzle early morning. Cloud breaking late afternoon. Continuing cold with moderate or fresh N.E'ly winds.

Thursday—Becoming dull and overcast with long period of snow from early morning until dusk, changed quickly to rain and ceased mid-evening. Very cold with biting E'ly winds.

Friday—Cloudy with rain and drizzle almost all day. Slightly less cold with E'ly winds, light to moderate.

Saturday—Continuing dull, cold and overcast with periods of rain. Winds light N.E'ly.

The reading of the barometer rose from 995.6 mbs. at beginning of week to 1012.6 mbs. at 22.00 hrs. on 13th, then fell to 994.2 mbs. at 04.00 hrs. on 16th and rose to 1001.7 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ended 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| Monthly | Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month. |
| Quarterly | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.) |
| Annual | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. |

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Remaining dull and overcast throughout. Dry by day, a little light rain at the close. Cold. Moderate E breeze.

Monday—Mainly dull and overcast with periods of rain and drizzle, heavy at times, until early evening. A shower followed, with further outbreaks of rain at the close. Periods of fog during the day. Warmer, with light E winds, becoming S.W'ly.

Tuesday—Cloudy or dull throughout with long periods of rain, heavy at times. Fog formed late morning, cleared as moderate S.W'ly winds replaced the light Easterly winds mid-afternoon. Rather cool, and becoming colder at the with the onset of N.E'ly winds.

Wednesday—Dull and cold generally with periods of rain ceasing mid-afternoon, heavy overnight, but only slight day. Clearing skies late evening. Cold Northerly winds throughout.

Thursday—Rather cloudy at times but with sunny periods. Brief, light shower mid-day otherwise dry. Becomes generally overcast in the evening. Much warmer. Winds moderate Westerly.

Friday—Dull and cloudy with long periods of rain and drizzle throughout. Rather cool with a moderate to fresh S breeze.

Saturday—Cloudy, apart from a few breaks mid-afternoon. Rain until dawn and again in evening. Clear periods. Wind S.W'ly, light to moderate.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1004.7 mbs. at 20.30 hrs. on the 17th to 994.2 mbs. at 16.00 hrs. on the 18th, then rose to 1025.1 mbs. at 21.10 hrs. on the 21st, then fell to 1003.8 mbs. at end of week.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years 1871-1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.
2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.
3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.
4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.
5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.
6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.
- Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)
- Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
- Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Mainly rather cloudy with a brief period of rain early morning followed by occasional showers through the day, one heavy late afternoon. Clear late evening. Winds S.W'ly, moderate.

Monday—Cloudy throughout but with good sunny periods. Becoming rather warm. Winds light W'ly.

Tuesday—Mainly cloudy with some periods of sunshine. Rather warm with light S.-S.W'ly breeze.

Wednesday—Cloudy with rain from early morning. Sunny periods in afternoon. Clear at night. Wind S.S.E'ly, veering to W.S.W., light. Warmer.

Thursday—Fair or fine with long sunny periods. Clear at night, continuing warm with light W'ly winds, becoming calm in evening.

Friday—Fine and warm throughout with only thin, high cloud. Light South or S.W'ly winds.

Saturday—A day of unbroken sunshine with only small amounts of high cloud. Warm with light or moderate E. winds.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1003.5 mbs. at 04.00 hrs. on 24th to 1022.5 mbs. at 24.00 hrs. on 25th, continued rising less steeply to 1024.5 mbs. at 24.00 hrs. on 27th, then continued to rise, reaching 1035.3 mbs. at 01.30 on 30th.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs, and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

 NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for periods of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre—0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch—25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—A day of unbroken sunshine. Very warm, with East to S.E'y winds. Ground fog around dawn, dispersing.

Monday—Continuing very warm and sunny with only a few isolated patches of cloud in afternoon. Wind W.S. S.S.W'y or calm. Ground fog around dawn, soon dispersing.

Tuesday—After a clear night, cloud began to form soon after sunrise, the day remaining cloudy until evening. S.W. to W'y, light to moderate breeze. Much cooler than of late.

Wednesday—Clear at first, becoming cloudy by dawn with rain, moderate at times, from mid-morning until evening. Sky clearing later. Continuing cool with light W.S.W. to S'y winds, fresh at times mid-afternoon.

Thursday—Fair to cloudy at first, becoming cloudy with moderate to heavy rain. Mainly cloudy with showers mid-morning. Showers, becoming heavy at times, with thunder in afternoon. Becoming clear by sunset. Wind S.W. N.W'y, light to moderate, fresh at times.

Friday—Mainly fair, becoming cloudy with showers developing by mid-morning, becoming heavy at times, with th in afternoon. Wind S.W'y, moderate to fresh, but light in evening.

Saturday—Cloudy with rain, heavy at times until morning, then becoming fair or fine. Wind N.N.W'y, mo to fresh, becoming S.W'y, light in evening.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1030.2 mbs. at 00.01 hrs. on 1st to 997.7 mbs. at 13.50 hrs. on 5th, then again, reaching 1018.0 mbs. at 20.15 hrs. on 7th.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years 1871-1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is the partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrammes per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales and those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on pages 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- | | |
|------------------|---|
| Monthly | Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month. |
| Quarterly | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.) |
| Annual | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. |

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

* The Abbreviated List numbers are those set out on pages 381-2 of the International Classification of Diseases, 1955. The further breakdown indicated by small letters after the numbers is one used in the General Register Office; the corresponding numbers in the full List are shown in brackets after the description of the causes.

TABLE IV. Notifications of Infectious Diseases in the week ended 13th May 1966

Note: Where no return has been received an asterisk * is inserted in the columns. Totals shown against the names of counties include any associated county boroughs. Letters in the "Others" column denote the diseases so lettered in the summary headings.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy with rain and drizzle from dawn until mid-afternoon. A shower in the early evening, then becoming fine later. Wind S.-S.W., light to moderate breeze.

Monday—Thick fog at first cleared by mid-morning, then cloudy with bright intervals and showers in afternoon. Cloudy with rain early evening. Wind calm at first, becoming N.W., light to moderate breeze by afternoon.

Tuesday—Clear at first, then partly cloudy with long sunny intervals. Fine in evening. Wind light and variable becoming S.W'ly, light to moderate in afternoon.

Wednesday—Cloudy with rain from mid-morning. Wind S.-S.E., light to moderate, fresh at times in afternoon.

Thursday—Cloudy with a shower in late afternoon. A short period of slight rain late evening. Wind S.-S.W. becoming W.-S.W. in evening, light.

Friday—Thick fog at first, clearing by morning, then partly cloudy with long sunny periods. Wind calm at first becoming S.W.-W.S.W., light to moderate.

Saturday—Mainly cloudy apart from some bright periods early afternoon. Wind S.W'ly, light to moderate. A period of drizzle early morning.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1016.6 mbs. to 1002.5 mbs. at 15.30 hrs. on the 8th, then rose to 1020.6 mbs. at 07.30 hrs. on the 10th. The barometer readings then fell, reaching a minimum of 999.7 mbs. on the 11th rising again to reach a maximum of 1027.9 mbs. at midnight on the 14th.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales and those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on pages 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| Monthly | Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month. |
| Quarterly | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.) |
| Annual | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. |

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Rather cloudy at times but periods of sunshine throughout. Warm with light winds mainly from North.

Monday—Only small amounts of cloud, a very warm, sunny day. Light winds, mainly Easterly.

Tuesday—Clear with ground fog patches around dawn. Becoming cloudy by mid-morning. The sky remained all day with rain, moderate at times, in evening. Wind calm at first, becoming S.W.-W.N.W., light.

Wednesday—Cloudy, becoming fair in afternoon. Rain, moderate at times, until early morning. Wind N.W.-W., light to moderate, backing to Southerly, light, in evening.

Thursday—Fine, becoming cloudy. Rain or drizzle at times from mid-day. Clear periods and showers in evening. S.W.-W., mainly moderate but fresh at times.

Friday—After a clear night cloud formed early morning, remaining until late evening. Wind S.W. to W., light to moderate breeze.

Saturday—Cloudy all day with a few breaks. Wind S.W.-W., light to moderate breeze.

The reading of the barometer fell slowly from 1030.9 mbs. at 22.10 hrs. on 15th to 1009.2 mbs. on 19th at 18.1 then rose to 1018.5 mbs. at 23.15 hrs. on 20th and finally fell to 1015.6 mbs. at 24.00 hrs. on 21st.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values obtained from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years 1871-1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown in maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

- 1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.
- 2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.
- 3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.
- 4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales and those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.
- 5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.
- 6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on pages 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.
 - Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)
 - Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.
- Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

§ Figures not available.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy, showers developing in morning with a violent thunderstorm early afternoon. Sky cleared in evening. Winds fresh to strong, gusting to gale force in afternoon, S.-S.W.

Monday—Fine throughout with only partly clouded skies by day. Fresh Westerly winds, decreasing at the close.

Tuesday—Becoming generally cloudy by mid-morning with occasional light rain by mid-day. More general and heavier rain mid-afternoon. Rain ceased late evening. Light or moderate S.W'ly winds. Rather cool.

Wednesday—Cloudy or dull throughout with periods of rain, heavy early afternoon. Becoming dry late afternoon and evening. Rather cool with moderate S.W'ly winds.

Thursday—Mainly rather cloudy but dry. Some periods of sunshine late afternoon and early evening. Continuing rather cool with moderate N.W'ly winds.

Friday—Becoming dull overnight with cloud persisting until early evening when substantial cloud breaks developed. Cool with persistent N.E'ly winds throughout.

Saturday—Cloudy weather spread in from the North East overnight, persisting until mid-morning. A steady decrease in cloud amounts then occurred leading to a fine, sunny afternoon and evening. Somewhat warmer, but with a cool N.E'ly breeze continuing.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1015.6 mbs. to 1003.9 mbs. by 11.10 hrs. on the 22nd and then rose to 1022 mbs. at 23.00 hrs. on the 23rd. The reading then fell steadily to 1014.9 mbs. at 18.10 hrs. on the 25th, then rose to 1030 mbs. by the morning of the 28th.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ended 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales and those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

 NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Patchy early morning cloud quickly dispersed and thereafter weather was fine with brilliant sunshine and only small amounts of cloud. A little warmer, but still with a cool N.E.'ly breeze.

Monday—Fine weather continued throughout the entire period giving a clear night followed by a day of brilliant sunshine. Rather warm with a light or moderate E. or N.E.'ly breeze.

Tuesday—Becoming dull in the morning, but sunny periods from mid-morning onwards. A little cooler with a moderate N. or N.E.'ly breeze.

Wednesday—Cloudy at first, soon becoming fine and sunny. Some increase of high cloud late afternoon. Warm with light winds, mainly from the W. or N.W.

Thursday—Variable amounts of cloud, tending to decrease in the late afternoon, leading to a clear evening, warm with light N.W.'ly winds.

Friday—Fine throughout with only small amounts of cloud. Warm with light W. to S.W.'ly winds.

Saturday—Cloud amounts increased gradually during the day, but with long sunny periods until late afternoon. Very warm again with a moderate or fresh S.W.'ly breeze.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1029.3 mbs. at beginning of the week to 1018.4 mbs. at 17.10 hrs. on 1st, then rose to 1022.5 mbs. at 08.00 hrs. on 3rd, then fell to 1006.8 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ended 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales and those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

E I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about $3\frac{1}{2}$ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Mainly cloudy but with a few sunny intervals. Some light showers late afternoon, ceasing mid-evening. Cooler than of late, but still rather warm and humid. Winds moderate or fresh Westerly.

Monday—Mostly rather cloudy with only a few sunny intervals, but dry throughout. Clouds breaking at the close. Rather warm with light or moderate West or S.W'ly winds.

Tuesday—Generally cloudy with a little light drizzle late morning and a few light showers mid-evening. Rather warm and close with a light Southwesterly breeze.

Wednesday—Rather cloudy, especially early in the day, but with good periods of sunshine. Becoming very warm. Winds light and very variable, becoming Easterly at the close.

Thursday—Long periods of sunshine, becoming cloudy early evening. Distant lightning late evening, followed by short shower with further distant thunderstorm at the close. Very warm. Winds moderate or fresh Easterly.

Friday—Cloudy morning with intermittent slight rain, becoming sunny and hot during afternoon and early evening. Clouds increasing from S.E. during evening to give a heavy thunderstorm by close. Winds moderate N.E. to East.

Saturday—Violent thunderstorm in early hours. Remaining cloudy for most of period, although some cloud breaks give sunny intervals during day. Slight showers in early evening. Warm. Early mist. Wind mainly light becoming S.E.

The reading of the barometer was 1006·8 mbs. at 01.00 hrs. on 5th, rising slowly to 1018·8 mbs. at 23.00 hrs. on 5th, falling slowly to 1009·4 mbs. at 03.00 hrs. on 10th, then rising to 1017·9 mbs. at 11.00 hrs. on 11th, falling slowly to 1006·6 mbs. at midnight.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales and those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

 NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Rather cloudy throughout but with sunny periods in the afternoon. A little light rain late morning, and slight shower late evening, otherwise dry. Warm with light Southerly winds.

Monday—Mainly cloudy until late afternoon when good sunny periods developed. Occasional light showers mid-morning. Rather warm and humid with a light or moderate S.W'ly breeze throughout.

Tuesday—Dull, foggy conditions in the early morning gave way to good sunny periods by mid-morning, a very warm afternoon and evening. Wind S.W'ly, light becoming calm.

Wednesday—Becoming cloudy overnight with outbreaks of light rain in early morning. Long sunny periods late morning onwards giving a very warm afternoon and evening. Winds Easterly veering S.W'ly in the afternoon.

Thursday—Cloud increasing in early morning leading to outbreaks of rain, heavy early afternoon. Sunny periods from mid-afternoon. Rather warm and close, winds very variable and mainly light.

Friday—Cloudy with mist overnight and early morning, followed by a brief outbreak of heavy rain. Cloud breaking slightly mid-morning but with showers and adjacent thunderstorm early afternoon. Skies becoming mainly clear in the evening. Rather warm with a moderate S.W'ly breeze setting in.

Saturday—Cloud amounts increased after a clear sunny morning, although intervals of sunshine occurred throughout the remainder of the day. Winds light or moderate S.W'ly.

The reading of the barometer was 1016.8 mbs. at 01.00 hrs. on 12th, with only slight variations of pressure, to 1013.0 mbs. at 07.40 hrs. on 14th, falling slowly to 1013.0 mbs. at 24.00 hrs. on 18th.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

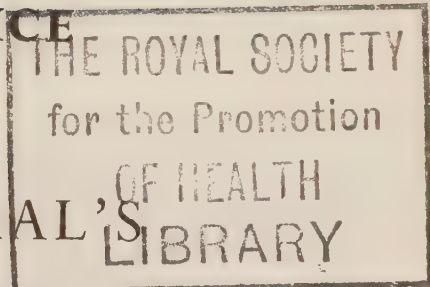

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales and those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

 NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly	Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.
Quarterly	Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)
Annual	Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Mostly rather cloudy with shower late morning and a brief outbreak of rain early evening followed by continuous and heavier rain at the close. Less warm. Winds becoming moderate S.-S.W'ly.

Monday—Overcast until mid-morning with prolonged rain. Becoming a little brighter but rapid development of heavy showers early afternoon with adjacent thunderstorms early and mid-afternoon. Further outbreaks of light rain late evening. Rather cool. Winds very variable.

Tuesday—Mainly large amounts of cloud with showers from early morning to mid-afternoon, occasionally heavy before noon, with adjacent thunder early afternoon. Skies cleared at the close. Rather cool with a moderate S.W'ly breeze.

Wednesday—Quickly becoming cloudy with outbreaks of rain, briefly heavy early morning. Brighter mid-morning with sunny intervals. But further cloud and heavy rain at the close. Rather warm with light or moderate winds, mainly S'ly.

Thursday—Cloudy overnight with prolonged heavy rain, ceasing early morning, followed by brief outbreak of drizzle. Sunny intervals mid-morning, but heavy showers and thunderstorms early afternoon, one with hail. Becoming fine evening. Rather cool moderate S.W'ly breeze.

Friday—Cloud developing quickly in the morning with brief shower late morning, and more frequent and heavy showers late afternoon and evening. Rather cool, winds moderate or fresh W'ly.

Saturday—Becoming cloudy by early afternoon with long period of rain, occasionally heavy until late evening. Rather cool, winds moderate West, backing S.W'ly.

The reading of the barometer was 1012.4 mbs. at 01.00 hrs. on 19th, falling to 999.4 mbs. at 07.00 hrs. on 20th, rising slowly to 1024.0 mbs. at 14.30 hrs. on 25th, falling to 1022.6 mbs. at 24.00 hrs.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales and those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| Monthly | Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month. |
| Quarterly | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.) |
| Annual | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. |

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

* The Abbreviated List numbers are those set out on pages 381-2 of the International Classification of Disease 1955. The further breakdown indicated by small letters after the numbers is one used in the General Register Office. The corresponding numbers in the full List are shown in brackets after the description of the causes.

TABLE IV. Notifications of Infectious Diseases in the week ended 1st July 1966England and Wales. Administrative

Note: Where no return has been received an asterisk * is inserted in the columns. Totals shown against the names of counties include any associated county boroughs. Letters in the "Others" column denote the diseases so lettered in the summary headings.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy. Some slight rain in early hours and again late afternoon and evening, also some sunny intervals in morning and early afternoon. Moderate N.W'y winds backing S.W'y.

Monday—Mainly dull and overcast with periods of light rain to early afternoon, and a brief light shower early evening. Some sunny intervals then followed. Rather cool, but humid with a moderate or fresh S.W'y wind veering to West.

Tuesday—Clear at first, quickly becoming rather cloudy with a brief light shower near noon. Cool fresh N.W'y wind becoming light at the close.

Wednesday—Cloud amounts decreasing after a cloudy start, long sunny periods late afternoon and evening. Ground fog at the close. A little warmer with winds light or moderate N.W'y falling calm.

Thursday—Early fog dispersed quickly with long sunny periods following giving a warm afternoon. Becoming more cloudy in the evening. Light N.W'y winds.

Friday—Variable amounts of cloud, but also good sunny periods. Warm with light N.E'y winds veering more Southerly.

Saturday—Dull at first with a brief period of fog. Low cloud and fog dispersed quickly with sunny intervals following. Clouds tending to disperse at the close. Warm with light S.W'y winds veering N.W'y.

The reading of the barometer—1022.0 mbs. at 01.00 hrs. on 26th, rising to 1024.3 mbs. at 12.00 hrs., falling to 1015.4 mbs. at 17.45 hrs. on 27th, then rising to 1025.0 mbs. at 07.30 hrs. on 30th, then falling slowly to 1015.4 mbs. at midnight on 2nd July.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales and those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of “employed persons” under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Dry and warm with long periods of sunshine. Winds light and variable.

Monday—Clear at first, gradually becoming rather more cloudy with a brief light shower late afternoon. Rather warm. Winds light S.W'ly veering slowly N.W.

Tuesday—Mainly cloudy or dull with occasional light rain and drizzle before mid-day, and long periods of rain, heavy at times, afternoon and evening, ceasing late in period. Rather cool, winds calm or light and variable.

Wednesday—Becoming mainly cloudy with brief outbreaks of light rain late afternoon. Rather cool. Winds light, North or N.W.

Thursday—A dry, but mainly cloudy or dull day. Cool with a light or moderate N.W'ly breeze.

Friday—Mainly cloudy morning with slight drizzle briefly early. Some sunny intervals mid-afternoon. Warmer and veier. Light N.W'ly winds.

Saturday—Cloudy or dull throughout with outbreaks of light rain or drizzle late morning to mid-evening. Very humid. Winds light S.W'ly.

The reading of the barometer was 1015.3 mbs. at 01.00 hrs. on 3rd, falling slowly to 1008.3 mbs. at 17.45 hrs. on 5th, rising to 1021.4 mbs. at 02.00 hrs. on 8th, falling slowly to 1020.6 mbs. at midnight on 9th.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales and those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly	Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.
Quarterly	Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)
Annual	Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS—ENGLAND AND WALES—JUNE QUARTER 1966

Birth occurrences and Deaths registered in England and Wales in the Quarter ended 30th June 1966, with comparative figures for the Second Quarter of three earlier years. (The customary analysis will appear in the Quarterly Return in due course.)

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Becoming steadily overcast following a fine morning, with long period of rain from mid-afternoon to end of period. Rather warm. Winds freshening from the S.W.

Monday—Overnight cloud and rain gave way to a cloudy morning with sunny periods late in the afternoon. Winds light or moderate N.W'ly throughout.

Tuesday—Mainly cloudy but dry. Some brief intervals of sunshine early evening, followed by a mainly clear evening. Rather warm and humid. Winds light or moderate S.W'ly.

Wednesday—Generally cloudy, though with sunny intervals at times. Rather cool. Moderate W'ly breeze.

Thursday—Rather cloudy at times, but with sunny periods mainly in early morning and again in evening. Brief light showers mid-afternoon. Rather cool, winds moderate N.W'ly.

Friday—Quickly becoming cloudy with long period of rain briefly heavy late afternoon, mid-afternoon to early evening, followed by brief outbreak of drizzle late evening. Rather cool, light or moderate S.W'ly wind.

Saturday—Cloudy throughout with only brief sunny intervals. Period of rain occasionally heavy early morning, and occasional light drizzle and rain mid-afternoon to late evening. Cool, light or moderate N.-N.E'ly winds.

The reading of the barometer was 1020.4 mbs. at 01.00 hrs. on 10th, falling to 1006.0 mbs. at 03.30 hrs. on 11th, rising to 1015.8 mbs. at midnight then falling again to 1010.7 mbs. at 11.15 hrs. on 13th, rising to 1017.3 mbs. at 04.00 hrs. on 15th, falling to 1008.6 mbs. at 03.40 hrs. on 16th, then rising to 1017.8 mbs. at midnight.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ended 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales and those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Sunny spells in early morning, becoming mainly cloudy with light shower early afternoon, and again in evening. Clearing skies at the close. Cool moderate N-NE'ly winds.

Monday—Clouds developing steadily in early morning to give a generally cloudy afternoon and evening with light showers late afternoon. Continuing cool with a moderate or fresh N-NE'ly breeze throughout.

Tuesday—Dull and overcast with outbreaks of rain, often heavy, and accompanied by thunder in the afternoon, long periods of drizzle evening. Cool but very humid and extensive mist. Winds moderate or fresh N-NE'ly.

Wednesday—Mainly dull and overcast. Outbreaks of rain in early hours followed by long period of drizzle. Further rain mid-evening, brief sunny interval mid-afternoon. Warmer and still very humid. Moderate or fresh N-NE'ly winds.

Thursday—Dull with outbreaks of rain, heavy at times in early morning to early afternoon. Clouds breaking slowly from North with a fine sunny evening following. Rather cool, winds moderate or fresh N-NE'ly.

Friday—Dull at first, soon becoming fine with prolonged sunshine and only small amounts of high cloud. Warm moderate N-NE'ly breeze falling calm.

Saturday—Dry throughout and mainly sunny by day. Very warm. Winds light W'ly.

The reading of the barometer was 1017.6 mbs. at 01.00 hrs on 17th, rising to 1021.8 mbs. at 09.15 hrs, on 18th, falling slowly to 1013.1 mbs. at 02.15 hrs. on 20th, rising to 1022.4 mbs. at 00.01 hrs. on 22nd, falling to 1011.4 mbs. at midnight on 23rd.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Pensions and National Insurance. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| Monthly | Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month. |
| Quarterly | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.) |
| Annual | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. |

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

LE I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Information not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Mainly cloudy with some brief sunny intervals. Scattered showers and outbreaks of rain, briefly heavy and accompanied by squall mid-afternoon to early evening. Clear skies at the close. Fresh S.W'y winds veering sharply to N. and decreasing.

Monday—Clear at first, becoming gradually rather cloudy with only brief sunny periods. Cool winds moderate N.W.

Tuesday—Mainly cloudy, some outbreaks of light drizzle before midday and showers from mid-afternoon to early evening, briefly heavy. Cool with moderate S.W'y winds.

Wednesday—Cloudy or dull with light rain briefly in morning and a light shower mid-afternoon. Some intervals sunshine early evening. Cool winds moderate N'y falling calm.

Thursday—Sunny spells at first, soon becoming overcast with occasional light rain late afternoon and evening. Period moderate to heavy rain at the close. Rather cool. Winds freshening from S.W.

Friday—Heavy rain in early hours, gave way to sunny intervals but was followed in afternoon by a succession of v heavy thunderstorms with intense rain and hail at times. Cool with moderate W'y winds squally in heavy showers and storms.

Saturday—Mainly rather cloudy with sunny periods. Occasional showers before mid-day were followed by a brief heavy thunderstorm mid-afternoon and further showers continued to mid-evening. Rather cool with moderate S.W.—W winds.

The reading of the barometer was 1010.9 mbs. at 01.00 hrs. on 24th, falling to 1002.3 mbs. at 16.25 hrs. then rising to 1011.5 mbs. at 20.30 hrs. on 25th, falling to 1007.3 mbs. at 16.00 hrs. on 26th, rising to 1020.6 mbs. on 28th, then falling slowly to 1006.7 mbs. at 13.00 hrs. on 29th, rising slowly to 1010.2 mbs. at 24.00 hrs. on 30th.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

 NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

E I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

* The Abbreviated List numbers are those set out on pages 381-2 of the International Classification of Diseases, 1955. The further breakdown indicated by small letters after the numbers is one used in the General Register Office; the corresponding numbers in the full List are shown in brackets after the description of the causes.

Note: Where no return has been received an asterisk * is inserted in the columns. Totals shown against the names of counties include any associated county boroughs. Letters in the "Others" column denote the diseases so lettered in the summary headings.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy, becoming dull by early evening, scattered showers, heavy late morning to mid-afternoon with adjacent thunderstorm to North, early afternoon. Period of rain, briefly heavy mid-evening to end of period. Rather cool with light or moderate from West or Southwest.

Monday—Mostly cloudy and cool with period of rain in early hours. Light rain and showers in afternoon. Moderate or fresh West—Northwest winds.

Tuesday—Clear periods overnight with ground fog patches around dawn. Becoming dull by mid-afternoon with light period of rain soon following, heavy at times, persisting until end of day. Rather cool with winds freshening from the South-east.

Wednesday—Mainly cloudy throughout but with brief sunny intervals. Occasional rain to mid-afternoon, mostly slight. Showers from late afternoon, violent in intensity, late evening, ceasing. Rather cool, fresh to strong S.W'ly winds, gusts to strong gale.

Thursday—Partly cloudy with good sunny periods. Scattered light showers, with adjacent thunderstorm late morning and further brief light showers late afternoon. Clear evening following. Rather cool with a moderate W'ly breeze.

Friday—Variable amounts of cloud with sunny periods. Slight shower late afternoon. Continuing rather cool with moderate W.-N.W'ly breeze.

Saturday—Soon becoming dull and overcast with occasional light rain late morning and a long period of moderate heavy rain throughout the afternoon and evening. Cool moderate S.W'ly winds backing S.E'ly.

The reading of the barometer was 1010.5 mbs. at 01.00 hrs. on 31st July, rising to 1014.3 mbs. at 10.10 hrs. then falling to 998 mbs. at 02.00 hrs. on 3rd, then rising unsteadily to 1014.6 mbs. at 07.00 hrs. on 6th, falling to 1004.7 mbs. at midnight.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| Monthly | Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month. |
| Quarterly | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.) |
| Annual | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. |

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Mainly cloudy after the clearance of overnight rain. Some brief sunny intervals mid-afternoon. Continually rather cool with light or moderate S.W'ly wind veering N.W'ly.

Monday—Rather cloudy at times but with good sunny periods. Brief light shower early afternoon. Warmer with temperatures approaching normal. Winds light W'ly backing slowly to S.W.

Tuesday—Becoming steadily more cloudy from S.W. during morning leading to a cloudy or dull afternoon with periods of light rain. Freshening S.—S.W'ly winds, gusting to fresh gale in the evening.

Wednesday—Cloudy overnight with outbreak of rain briefly in early hours. Dry during the day with periods of sunshine. Becoming rather warm. Moderate or fresh S.W'ly winds.

Thursday—Mainly cloudy or dull throughout. Rain at times from dawn to early afternoon. Heavy rain for brief spells late morning. Temperature normal but humid. Winds moderate or fresh S.W'ly.

Friday—Mainly cloudy, a little light rain at times during morning. Brighter spell late morning and sunny period in afternoon and early evening before return of low cloud. Becoming rather warm. Wind moderate to fresh S.W'ly.

Saturday—Large amounts of cloud, but with sunny intervals during day. Brief spells of rain, mostly light, during early evening. Winds moderate to fresh from between S. and S.W. Rather warm.

The reading of the barometer was 1004.5 mbs. at 01.00 hrs. on 7th, rising to 1012.3 mbs. at 05.35 hrs. on 9th, falling to 1005.0 mbs. at 01.00 hrs. on 10th, rising to 1016.2 mbs. at 01.00 hrs. on 12th, falling to 1013.4 mbs. at 16.30 hrs. on 12th, rising unsteadily to 1015.0 mbs. at midnight on 13th.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

HER MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE

TWO SHILLINGS NET

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Long sunny periods, with small amount of cloud, dispersing by mid-evening. Rather cool with mainly moderate N.W'yly winds.

Monday—Clear with ground fog at first, becoming mainly cloudy with outbreaks of light rain for a time during the morning. Clouds gradually dispersing after midday and becoming sunny by late afternoon with fine evening following. Rather cool. Winds light N.E'yly.

Tuesday—Clear skies, with thick but shallow fog at first, becoming sunny for a time. But fog and low clouds accompanied by slight drizzle again for a time during the morning. Sunny with small amount of cloud after mid-morning and fine evening. Warmer, with winds very light S.W'yly.

Wednesday—Mainly clear skies throughout with brilliant and unbroken sunshine by day giving a warm afternoon. Light variable or calm winds.

Thursday—Cloudless skies throughout with unbroken sunshine. Rather hazy with ground fog in early hours. Warm with only light winds mainly from N.E.

Friday—Cloudless skies throughout with continuous sunshine after clearance of early morning ground fog patches. Very warm in the afternoon. Light variable or calm winds.

Saturday—Ground fog early, soon dispersing followed by a day of almost unbroken sunshine but with some increase of high cloud in afternoon and evening. Very warm with light and very variable winds.

The reading on the barometer was 1015.2 mbs. at 01.00 hrs. on 14th, rising to 1034.0 mbs. at 08.30 hrs. on 16th, falling slowly to 1015.5 mbs. at 17.30 hrs. on 20th, rising to 1016.4 mbs. at midnight.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ended 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

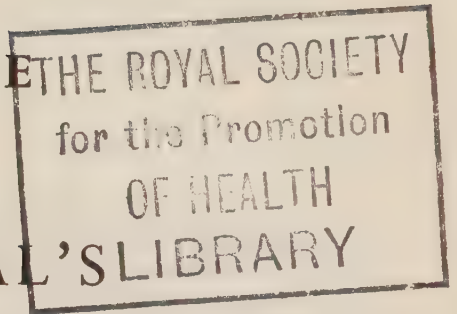

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| Monthly | Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month. |
| Quarterly | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.) |
| Annual | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. |

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloud amounts increasing slowly after early morning ground fog with outbreak of rain late afternoon. Rather warm and close with light variable or calm winds.

Monday—Mostly cloudy and cool with a moderate northeasterly breeze and occasional rain in early hours and morning.

Tuesday—Variable amounts of cloud with good sunny periods. Clouds clearing at dusk, leading to a fine and cool evening. Rather cool generally with light or moderate N.-N.E.'ly breeze falling calm late.

Wednesday—Clear night but with thick fog briefly around dawn, dispersing quickly, followed by sunny periods. Bright light shower mid-afternoon. Rather cool. Winds light mainly N.-N.W.

Thursday—Mainly cloudy and cool with a little rain in early morning, and some light showers early afternoon. Clearing skies at the close. Moderate N.E.'ly breeze throughout.

Friday—Rather cloudy, but dry. Some periods of sunshine late afternoon and early evening. Rather cool, with light or moderate N.E.'ly breeze.

Saturday—Fog and low cloud at first lifting, but large amounts of cloud persisting throughout day. Some sunshine but also light shower late morning. Rather cool with moderate N.E.-E. wind.

The reading of the barometer was 1016.4 mbs. at 00.01 hrs. on 21st, falling unsteadily to 1011.4 mbs. at 02.00 hrs. on 22nd, rising to 1023.9 mbs. at 09.30 hrs. on 24th, then falling unsteadily to 1014.0 mbs. at 24.00 hrs. on 27th.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| Monthly | Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month. |
| Quarterly | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.) |
| Annual | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. |

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Variable cloud with periods of sunshine. Rather warm with light or moderate E. or S.E. winds.

Monday—Slight rain or showers before noon. Showers of violent intensity during afternoon with a local thunderstorm. Shower activity ceased early evening but further rain began at night.

Tuesday—After a night of continuous rain skies remained overcast and further rain commenced towards mid-day with thunderstorms and heavy rain in the afternoon ceasing in evening.

Wednesday—Dry with long sunny periods.

Thursday—Cloudy with rain and drizzle, ceasing mid-evening. Rather cool with freshening Southwesterly winds.

Friday—Occasional rather blustery showers, heavy early. Winds fresh or strong South Westerly, reaching gale force in gusts.

Saturday—Cloudy with sunny periods. Rather warm.

The reading on the barometer fell from 1014·0 mbs. on the 28th to 1000·3 mbs. at midnight on the 29th. The barometer then rose to 1011·8 mbs. by midnight on the 31st then began falling, reaching 1000·0 mbs. at 07.30 hrs. on the 2nd. Pressure then began rising reaching 1015·4 mbs. on the 3rd.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ended 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

 NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| Monthly | Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month. |
| Quarterly | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.) |
| Annual | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. |

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending a 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy until mid-afternoon with occasional rain before mid-day, and period of moderate to heavy rain early afternoon, quickly followed by brief heavy shower. Becoming mainly sunny late afternoon. Fresh to strong SW'ly wind.

Monday—Cloud amounts decreasing in morning with long sunny periods afternoon and evening. Warm, with moderate SW'ly winds.

Tuesday—Cloudy early, soon becoming mostly sunny and warm. Moderate to fresh W-SW'ly winds falling light.

Wednesday—Sunny periods before mid-day, but becoming mostly cloudy afternoon and evening with a little light rain late afternoon. Warm and close with light winds.

Thursday—Mainly cloudy with some light drizzle late morning and outbreaks of light rain mid-afternoon. Clear evening with ground fog late. Rather cool, light N-NE'ly winds.

Friday—Early morning ground fog dispersing quickly with good sunny periods following for the remainder of the day. Warm, with light S'ly winds.

Saturday—Rather cloudy at first, soon becoming mostly sunny and warm with light or moderate SW'ly breeze.

The reading of the barometer 1013.1 mbs. at 01.00 hrs. on 4th falling to 1003.5 mbs. at 13.35 hrs., rising slowly to 1023.1 mbs at 08.00 hrs. on 7th falling unsteadily to 1015.1 mbs. at 03.15 hrs. on 10th, then rising to 1019.4 mbs at midnight.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ended 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

* The Abbreviated List numbers are those set out on pages 381-2 of the International Classification of Diseases, 1955. The further breakdown indicated by small letters after the numbers is one used in the General Register Office; the corresponding numbers in the full List are shown in brackets after the description of the causes.

Note: Where no return has been received an asterisk * is inserted in the columns. Totals shown against the names of counties include any associated county boroughs. Letters in the "Others" column denote the diseases so lettered in the summary headings.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending a 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Rather cloudy at times but with sunny periods. Outbreak of rain, briefly heavy, late morning. Rather warm and close, winds light SW'ly.

Monday—Mostly large amounts of cloud until early evening. Some rain in early hours and scattered light showers mid-afternoon. Rather warm and close. Light E'ly winds becoming moderate W. or SW'ly.

Tuesday—Brief light showers early morning—otherwise dry with sunny spells. Less warm with a moderate or fresh W'ly wind.

Wednesday—Soon becoming mostly cloudy with some heavy rain at the close. Rather cool and windy.

Thursday—Period of heavy rain in early hours followed by rapid clearance. Becoming mainly cloudy later with showers late afternoon. Fine evening. Rather cool with fresh W-NW'ly winds.

Friday—Variable amounts of cloud with long sunny periods. Some ground fog patches late evening. Cool, with light winds mainly from the NW.

Saturday—Early morning fog dispersing quickly with prolonged sunshine following. Rather cool with light W-NW'ly winds.

The reading of the barometer was 1019.4 mbs. at 01.00 hrs. on 11th falling slowly to 1006.5 mbs. at 10.00 hrs. on 12th rising unsteadily to 1017.8 mbs. at 07.15 hrs. on 14th falling to 1005.7 mbs. at 03.00 hrs. on 15th then rising to 1032.0 mbs. at 09.10 hrs. on 16th falling to 1023.2 mbs. at 16.00 hrs. on 17th rising to 1023.9 mbs. at midnight.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

 NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending a 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Mostly cloudy and rather cool with only a little sunshine.

Monday—Cloud amounts decreasing steadily in early morning followed by prolonged sunshine. A little warmer.

Tuesday—Early morning cloud and fog giving way quickly to unbroken sunshine. Warm afternoon but cool early and late with further thick fog late evening.

Wednesday—Overnight thick fog clearing by mid-morning with unbroken though rather hazy sunshine to follow. Further ground fog mid-evening. Rather warm.

Thursday—Becoming dull overnight dispersing remaining fog patches. Mostly dull until late morning. Sunny spells later, but becoming dull again mid-evening. Less warm.

Friday—Dull to mid-morning, then rapid break-up of cloud sheet leading to a fine afternoon and mostly clear evening but with ground fog late.

Saturday—Thick fog in early morning, dispersing quite quickly with a fine, sunny and rather warm day to follow. Cool early and late with ground fog returning after dusk.

The reading on the barometer was 1023.6 mbs. at 01.00 hrs. on 18th rising to 1030.0 mbs. at 10.30 hrs. on 19th falling unsteadily to 1023.7 mbs. at 16.30 hrs. on 21st, rising slightly to 1027.6 mbs. at 09.10 hrs. on 22nd, falling slightly to 1022.4 mbs. at 15.50 hrs. on 23rd, slight rise to 1024.9 mbs. at 09.10 hrs. on 24th falling to 1022.1 mbs. at midnight.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ended 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

 NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| Monthly | Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month. |
| Quarterly | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.) |
| Annual | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. |

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

* The Abbreviated List numbers are those set out on pages 381-2 of the International Classification of Diseases, 1955. The further breakdown indicated by small letters after the numbers is one used in the General Register Office; the corresponding numbers in the full List are shown in brackets after the description of the causes.

TABLE IV. Notifications of Infectious Diseases in the } England and Wales. Administrative

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.

(2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.

(3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending a 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Becoming dull, with thick fog overnight, lifting into low cloud mid-morning and breaking by early afternoon. Fine thereafter but with haze, and with thick fog again mid-evening. Rather cool. Light winds, mainly variable.

Monday—Variable amounts of cloud overnight and morning with fog thick at times until mid-morning. Becoming mainly sunny afternoon, but with ground fog reforming late.

Tuesday—Thick fog overnight, dispersing quickly with the spread of cloud from the East was followed by a most dull day with little sunshine. Becoming clear again early evening.

Wednesday—Rather cloudy at times but remaining dry throughout with good periods of sunshine. Rather cool. Winds E'ly light, becoming moderate.

Thursday—Cloud amounts increasing gradually during the day leading to some light rain early evening with occasional breaks of heavier rain later on.

Friday—Cloudy or dull throughout with long periods of rain, heavy at times and accompanied by periods of fine. Cool, with light or moderate N.E'ly breeze.

Saturday—Mostly cloudy with rain at times until early afternoon. Becoming brighter but with a heavy shower in afternoon. Mainly fine and sunny thereafter.

The reading of the barometer was 1022.2 mbs. at 0.100 hrs. on 25th then falling steadily throughout the week to 995.2 mbs at 13.50 hrs. on 1st Oct. Slight rise then falling to 997.5 mbs. at midnight.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| Monthly | Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month. |
| Quarterly | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.) |
| Annual | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. |

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending a 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Mainly cloudy or dull throughout. Period of rain late morning, occasionally heavy, ceasing by mid-day. Becoming clear early evening with ground fog forming temporarily.

Monday—Soon becoming dull and cloudy with periods of rain, often heavy. Very close and humid.

Tuesday—Continuing mostly cloudy, dull and sunless. Period of rain, heavy briefly in early hours, followed by scattered outbreaks of light rain and showers to late evening. Less humid.

Wednesday—Mostly cloudy or dull. Some light drizzle early morning, otherwise dry and with little sunshine. Rather humid.

Thursday—Cloud amounts increasing with only a little sunshine before noon. Thereafter dull with occasional light rain and drizzle, becoming heavier and more continuous after dark. Humid.

Friday—Cloudy or dull to mid-evening with a little light rain at times. Some ground fog late evening.

Saturday—Thick fog early morning clearing slowly was followed by a mostly cloudy or dull day with little sunshine. Clouds clearing from the West early evening led to the formation of thick fog by the close.

The reading of the barometer was 996.6 mbs. at 01.00 hrs. on 2nd falling unsteadily to 985.4 mbs. at 07.30 hrs. on 3rd rising to 1016.1 mbs. at 18.40 hrs. on 5th falling to 1011.8 mbs. at 13.45 hrs. on 7th rising to 1014.2 mbs. at 2 hrs. on 8th falling slightly to 1012.5 mbs. at midnight.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about $3\frac{1}{2}$ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Dull with thick fog late morning, followed by hazy sunshine but with gradually increasing cloud amount.

Monday—Cloudy or dull throughout with periods of rain, heavy at times, ceasing mid-afternoon. Rather cool.

Tuesday—Mainly small amounts of cloud with long sunny periods. Thick fog late evening. Rather warm afternoon.

Wednesday—Dense fog overnight dispersing by mid-morning. Sunny later but with cloud increasing mid-evening. Rather warm.

Thursday—Mostly cloudy or dull with periods of rain, heavy late evening. Rather warm and humid.

Friday—Cloudy generally, but some sunshine around mid-day. Periods of rain early morning and mid-evening, heavy at times. Rather warm and humid.

Saturday—Sunny at first, gradually becoming cloudier. Brief light shower late morning and again early evening. Distant lightning early evening. Rather warm.

The reading of the barometer was fairly steady on the 9th around 1014.5 mbs. but fell slowly to 1010.8 mbs. at 16 hrs. on the 10th. Pressure then began to rise reaching 1019.4 mbs. at 21.00 hrs. on the 11th. Pressure then fell on the 14th when 997.1 mbs. at 22.10 hrs. was the lowest reading for the period. Pressure then began to rise to 1000.1 mbs. at midnight on the 15th.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ended 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VIII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS—ENGLAND AND WALES—SEPTEMBER QUARTER 1966

Birth occurrences and Deaths registered in England and Wales in the Quarter ended 30th September, 1966, with comparative figures for the Third Quarter of three earlier years. (The customary analysis will appear in the Quarterly Return in due course.)

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending a 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Variable amounts of cloud, brief shower in early hours followed by patchy fog. Sunny periods later, becoming dull with period of rain late evening.

Monday—Mainly cloudy overnight with occasional rain. Some sunny intervals late morning and afternoon but brief and occasionally heavy showers mid-afternoon. Fine evening.

Tuesday—Rather cloudy with outbreaks of rain and showers, heavy at times, but also some good sunny periods. Rather warm. SE'ly winds gusting to fresh gale at times.

Wednesday—Variable amounts of cloud, but with good sunny spells. Showers throughout, frequent and squally at times, and with distant thunder late morning. Becoming fine late afternoon.

Thursday—Increasing cloud amounts before mid-day with showers in the afternoon, one heavy. Becoming fine in evening. Ground fog early morning, and again mid-evening.

Friday—Only small amounts of cloud with long periods of sunshine. Some ground fog near dawn.

Saturday—Fog in early hours, clearing quickly followed by mostly cloudy skies. Becoming dull with rain, heavy at times from mid-afternoon to end of period.

The reading of the barometer was 1000.4 mbs. at 01.00hrs. on the 16th with little change until 19.00 hrs. on 17th when the reading began to fall from 1000.0 mbs. to 986.7 mbs. at 22.10 hrs. on the 18th. Pressure then rose gradually reaching 1016.7 mbs. at 08.00 hrs. on the 22nd and then fell to 1003.8 mbs. by the end of the period.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

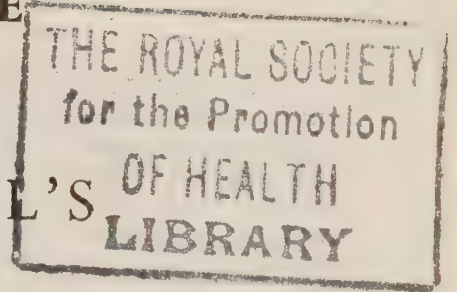

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VIII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

 NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on pages 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy and cool with light W'ly winds.

Monday—Mainly cloudy and cool with some ground fog early morning.

Tuesday—Dry throughout with sunny periods.

Wednesday—Mainly small amounts of cloud with long periods of sunshine. Rather cool.

Thursday—Cloudy or dull with isolated outbreaks of rain. Cool.

Friday—Mostly cloudy with outbreaks of rain and showers, but also some sunny intervals. Rather cool.

Saturday—Cloud amounts increasing after a clear night and persisting for remainder of the day. Rather cool.

The reading on the barometer showed little change until the 27th, varying between 1006 mbs. and 1009 mbs. From 06.00 hrs. on the 27th, the pressure, 1006.9 mbs., began to rise more quickly, reaching 1027.5 mbs. at 23.30 hrs. on the 29th.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Mostly cloudy but some periods of sunshine.

Monday—Cloudy or dull throughout with some rain mid-evening. Rather cool.

Tuesday—Mainly cloudy, but some sunny spells mid-morning. Occasional mostly light rain mid-afternoon to evening. Cold.

Wednesday—Fine with only small amounts of cloud. Rather cold.

Thursday—Rather cloudy at times, but with periods of sunshine. Ground frost and fog by late evening. R cold.

Friday—Thick fog early morning, soon dispersing followed by sunny intervals. Cloud increasing late afternoon some occasional light rain mid-evening. Frost early, rather cold.

Saturday—Dull and overcast throughout with period of rain, heavy mid-evening and accompanied by fog to early. Cold.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1027.0 mbs. at the beginning of the period to 1029.4 mbs. at midnight on the 30th. The reading then fell steadily to 1009.6 mbs. at 19.00 hrs. on the 1st., then rose again to 1023.8 mbs. at 21.30 hrs. on the 2nd. The pressure then fell steadily to 979.0 mbs. at 06.45 hrs. on the 5th. then began to rise to 985.8 mbs. by the end of the week.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown in maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre=0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch=25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Mainly cloudy with showers and outbreaks of rain at times. Warmer.

Monday—Sunny morning followed by increasing cloud with occasional rain early evening. Rather warm and close.

Tuesday—Mostly cloudy with periods of light rain and drizzle in the morning and occasional light rain throughout evening. Rather warm and humid.

Wednesday—Cloud amounts slowly decreasing with a little sunshine late afternoon. Rather cold.

Thursday—Clear early, clouds developing and later becoming mostly cloudy with brief outbreak of light rain afternoon.

Friday—Fog, and frost early morning followed by sunny spell. Becoming cloudy early afternoon. Rather cold.

Saturday—Cloudy or dull throughout with light rain at times.

The reading of the barometer was 985.8 mbs. at the beginning of the week rising steadily to 1014.2 mbs. by midnight on the 7th. Pressure then remained fairly steady until the 9th, then rose steadily from 1013.8 mbs. to 1028.0 mbs. at 09.00 on the 11th, then began to fall to 1024.3 mbs. at end of period.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years 1881-1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly	Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.
Quarterly	Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)
Annual	Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloudy with some light rain at times. Rather mild with moderate southwesterly winds.

Monday—Cloudy early with rain ceasing by dawn. Sunny morning but becoming cloudy during afternoon, cloud clearing during evening. Cooler.

Tuesday—Periods of mainly light rain. A brief but heavy outbreak of rain in early evening accompanied by west winds reaching gale force in gusts. Rather mild.

Wednesday—Cloudy at times with light showers early. Sunny periods throughout. Rather cold with a fresh strong north wind reaching gale force in gusts westerly.

Thursday—Mainly cloudy or dull with light showers at times. Rather cold with fresh to strong NW'ly wind gusting to strong gale force.

Friday—Rather cloudy, periods of sunshine early morning. Occasional light showers.

Saturday—Mostly cloudy with light rain or showers at times.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1023·8 mbs at 01.00 hrs. on the 13th, to 1015·8 mbs. at 04.30 hrs. on 14th. Pressure then rose, reaching 1022·8 mbs. at midnight on the 14th, then fell quickly to 1003·2 mbs. by 03.20 hrs. on the 16th. Pressure then rose again to 1022·3 mbs. by midnight on the 18th, falling to 1016·4 mbs. by the end of week.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years 1871-1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| Monthly | Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month. |
| Quarterly | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.) |
| Annual | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. |

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

* The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

† The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 24h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Rather cloudy but with brief sunny intervals. Brief outbreaks of light rain mid-evening. Rather cold.

Monday—Variable amounts of cloud, but with periods of sunshine. Rather cold.

Tuesday—Mainly cloudy to early evening with some isolated light showers. Rather cold.

Wednesday—Mostly rather cloudy with brief shower mid-morning. Cold.

Thursday Foggy and very cold throughout.

Friday—Cloudy or dull with rain at times, briefly heavy mid-evening. Less cold.

Saturday—Mostly dull to mid-evening with some light rain mid-morning to mid-afternoon. Mild.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1015.0 mbs. at 04.45 hrs. on the 20th. to 1023.1 mbs. at 11.00 hrs. on 21st. Pressure then began to fall gradually to 1015.6 mbs. on the 23rd. then rose steadily to 1024.1 mbs. at midnight the 24th. Pressure then fell to 1021.1 mbs. at 16.00 hrs. on the 25th. rising again to 1023.6 mbs. by the end of the week.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Becoming cloudy or dull with light showers early afternoon, soon followed by outbreaks of drizzle and briefly heavy early evening.

Monday—Cloudy with long period of rain, heavy at times, ceasing early afternoon. Fine, Cold evening.

Tuesday—Cloud amounts increasing slowly from the West with a little light rain at the close. Rather cold.

Wednesday—Cloudy overnight with rain and high winds, becoming brighter by mid-morning, but with isolated shower later. Mild at first, becoming colder.

Thursday—Becoming dull with rain, heavy at times and freshening winds. Violent squall mid-afternoon accompanied by heavy rain and hail. Clearing skies later. Much colder.

Friday—mostly cloudy and rather cold with high winds gusting to whole gale at times. Heavy showers in hours, with light showers mid-afternoon.

Saturday—Variable amounts of cloud and scattered light snow showers mid-afternoon. Cold.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1024·7 mbs. at beginning of the week to 1007·1 mbs. at 14.10 hrs. on 28th., then rose to 1013·0 mbs. at 10.30 hrs. on 29th., then fell to 963·8 mbs. at 03.00 hrs. on 2nd. and rose to 1000·8 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years 1871-1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of total sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Long clear periods overnight with only small amounts of thin high cloud by day, tending to increase late. Frosty early.

Monday—Cloudy or dull with rain, or rain and drizzle from early afternoon to close of period. Rather cold.

Tuesday—Generally dull and misty with periods of rain, ceasing late morning and with sunny spells later. Mild at first, becoming colder.

Wednesday—Cloud amounts gradually increasing from late morning following a clear night with frost and ground fog patches.

Thursday—Mainly dull to late morning with period of moderate to heavy rain in early hours, and occasional light rain early afternoon. Mild.

Friday—Becoming cloudy or dull by late afternoon with a period of rain mid-evening, briefly heavy, ceasing late evening.

Saturday—Dull overnight with long period of rain, often heavy, and accompanied by strong SW'ly winds and rain ceasing until early afternoon. Becoming fine with well broken cloud.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1009.8 mbs. at beginning of week to 1025.7 mbs. at 20.00 hrs. on 4th, then fell to 1012.4 mbs. at 06.30 hrs. on 6th., rose to 1026.4 mbs. at 10.00 hrs. on 7th., then fell to 990.3 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

 NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| Monthly | Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month. |
| Quarterly | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.) |
| Annual | Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January. |

* The Abbreviated List numbers are those set out on pages 381-2 of the International Classification of Diseases 1955. The further breakdown indicated by small letters after the numbers is one used in the General Register Office the corresponding numbers in the full List are shown in brackets after the description of the causes.

Note: Where no return has been received an asterisk * is inserted in the columns. Totals shown against the names of counties include any associated county boroughs. Letters in the "Others" column denote the diseases so lettered in the summary headings.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over can now qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit without limit of income, including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including about 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, generally speaking, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, corresponding closely with the class of "employed persons" under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Cloud amounts increasing slowly with outbreaks of rain, briefly heavy, late evening. Rather cold.

Monday—Mostly cloudy or dull, though with brief bright spell early afternoon. Periods of rain early morning, heavy at times, and again from late afternoon. Rather mild.

Tuesday—Overcast to early afternoon with rain in early hours, heavy at times. Becoming clear evening. Colder.

Wednesday—Mostly cloudy with ground fog patches early morning and again early evening with some fog temporarily later. Rather cold.

Thursday—Cloudy or dull throughout with light rain and drizzle at times. Becoming mild.

Friday—Cloudy to late afternoon with light drizzle and rain in morning with heavy rain briefly early afternoon, but becoming colder.

Saturday—Soon becoming cloudy, but remaining dry throughout. Ground frost early, but mild by evening.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1004.3 mbs. at beginning of week to 978.5 mbs. at 12.30 hrs. on 12th., then rose to 1026.5 mbs. at 03.30 hrs. on 17th., then fell to 1020.5 mbs. by end of week.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ended 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by the maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

 NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

Figures not available.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over but not yet retired can qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including over 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, so cover corresponds closely with the "employed persons" category under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Mostly cloudy and mild with a little light rain briefly early afternoon, but some cloud breaks later.

Monday—Cloudy throughout and becoming mild with freshening SW'ly winds.

Tuesday—Cloudy to mid-afternoon with a little light rain in early morning. Mild at first, but soon becoming colder.

Wednesday—Partly cloudy early, becoming mostly cloudy or dull later with periods of light rain through mid-evening. Mild.

Thursday—Becoming more cloudy, but with sunny intervals at times. Light rain early morning and again in evening. Mild.

Friday—Mainly cloudy or dull with brief showers mid-afternoon, soon followed by period of heavy rain, ceasing early evening with clear periods later. Mild.

Saturday—Becoming cloudy with rain in early hours, heavy at times ceasing mid-afternoon. Some clear periods later, but further outbreaks of rain late evening. Mild at first, becoming rather cold.

The reading of the barometer rose from 1017.3 mbs. at beginning of week to 1025.5 mbs. at 00.30 hrs. 19th., then fell to 1010.6 mbs. at 02.00 hrs. on 20th., rose to 1024.6 mbs. at 05.30 hrs. on 21st., and then fell to 1002.7 mbs. by end of the week.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years ending 1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

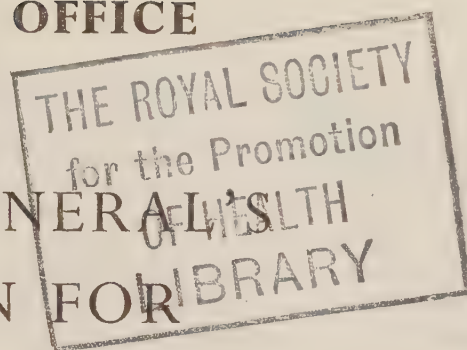

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.

NOTES

1. General. The figures in this return are provisional. Births and deaths (Tables I, II and III) and notifications of infectious diseases (Tables I and IV) are compiled from returns furnished to the Registrar General by Registrars of Births and Deaths and Medical Officers of Health respectively. The figures of new claims to sickness benefit made under the National Insurance Act and injury benefit under the National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act (shown in Table V) are supplied by the Ministry of Social Security. Meteorological data (Tables VI and VII) are supplied by the Director-General of the Meteorological Office. Many of the tables are prepared and published by virtue of the Registrar General's express powers to make arrangements with other Government Departments and Local Authorities in fulfilment of his statutory duty to collect and publish from time to time statistical information with respect to the number and condition of the people and otherwise to further the supply and provide for the better co-ordination of such information.

2. Definitions of areas. "Counties"=administrative counties together with their associated county boroughs; "Greater London"=the Greater London administrative area as defined under the London Government Act, 1963, comprising 32 London boroughs and the City of London (including the Inner and Middle Temple); "C.B."=county borough; "M.B."=municipal borough; "U.D."=urban district; "R.D."=rural district.

3. Non-civilian deaths are included in all figures.

4. Births and deaths for Greater London, the counties and county boroughs of England and Wales are those registered in the area and have not been allocated to the area of residence.

5. Notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers originally notified (late notifications are given at the end of Table IV). The numbers after correction for diagnosis are published in the Registrar General's Quarterly Return and Statistical Review, Part I, Tables, Medical.

6. Except where otherwise stated, births and deaths relate to events registered during each week ended on Saturday. From the beginning of 1964, notifications of infectious diseases are the numbers notified during each week ended on Friday.

 NON-WEEKLY STATISTICS

The following additional information relating to England and Wales as a whole is published on page 2 or 3 of the Weekly Return as soon as it becomes available:

Monthly Numbers of deaths from accidents registered in the month—about the eighth week following the end of the month.

Quarterly Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week following the end of the quarter. (For further quarterly statistics see the Registrar General's Quarterly Return.)

Annual Numbers and rates of live births, stillbirths, total deaths, and deaths of infants under one year of age—about the third week in January.

Numbers of deaths and death rates from Tuberculosis and Cancer. Maternal Mortality and also Neonatal Mortality—in April.

TABLE I. Births and deaths registered (distinguishing deaths of infants under 1 year of age) and notifications of selected infectious diseases in the last 10 weeks with totals for the current and the two preceding years.

Figures not available.

Weekly averages for 1965 are shown only when they are comparable with the 1966 figures for the revised standard regions.

- Notes: (1) Broadly, the whole of the civilian working population aged 15 and over but not yet retired can qualify under the National Insurance Act for sickness benefit including not only those employed under contract of service but also the self-employed. There are, however, about 3½ million employed persons who do not qualify, including over 3 million married women who elect not to be insured in their own right.
- (2) The National Insurance (Industrial Injuries) Act applies, broadly, to all civilians working for an employer under contract of service or apprenticeship, so cover corresponds closely with the "employed persons" category under the main scheme.
- (3) The weekly averages are usually for periods of four weeks, but the months are marked * when the average is for a period of five weeks.

The hours of observation are given in the Monthly Weather Report of the Meteorological Office. In the case of London (Kew) the entries are based on observations at 9h. and 21h. G.M.T.; they may differ slightly therefore from the readings in Table VII which refer to the civil day.

The amounts of rainfall are the totals registered during the week commencing at 9h. G.M.T. on Sunday and ending at 9h. G.M.T. on the following Sunday. 1 millimetre = 0.04 inch nearly; 1 inch = 25.4 millimetres exactly.

Figures not available.

Daily Notes

Sunday—Fine throughout with mostly only small amounts of cloud. Frosty early and late.

Monday—Becoming cloudy following a clear frosty night, but remaining dry throughout. Rather cold.

Tuesday—Cloudy or dull with period of rain mid-morning, becoming intermittent and ceasing early evening. Cold.

Wednesday—Clear at first with fog briefly early, but soon becoming cloudy with some rain and drizzle at times late. Mild.

Thursday—Mainly cloudy with periods of rain in early hours and again mid-morning. Showery later, one heavy squall early evening. Very mild.

Friday—Cloud amounts increasing through the morning with some occasional light rain late evening. Less mild.

Saturday—Dull overnight with long period of rain, briefly heavy. Brighter by late morning, but with brief light shower early afternoon, followed by a clear evening. Very mild at first, but becoming colder.

The reading of the barometer fell from 1026.5 mbs. at beginning of the week to 1002.3 mbs. at 14.00 hrs. on 27th, then rose to 1007.4 mbs. at 05.00 hrs. on 28th., fell to 998.8 mbs. at 08.00 hrs. on 29th., and rose to 1016.8 mbs. at end of week.

Explanatory notes

The results apply to the civil day, i.e., from midnight to midnight, Greenwich Mean Time. The height of the cistern of the barometer is 34 feet above the mean level of the sea.

Observations are taken at 6h. and 9h. A.M., noon, 3h., 6h. and 9h. P.M. The readings of the barometer shown in column 2 (in millibars) and of the air temperature shown in column 5 (in degrees Fahrenheit), are the means of 24 hourly values derived from photographic records.

The average temperature of the air is that derived from an analysis of the observations made at Kew during the 90 years 1871-1960, the average sunshine is derived from records covering the years 1881-1960, and the averages of humidity are similarly derived from records covering the years 1931-1960. It should be borne in mind that + indicates "higher" and — "lower" than the average.

The measure of humidity shown in column 6 is partial pressure of water vapour (in millibars).

The figures in column 8, derived from the Campbell Stokes Sunshine Instrument, show the aggregate duration of bright sunshine on each day.

The degree of atmospheric pollution, as measured by a Department of Scientific Research Smoke Filter, is shown by maximum, minimum and mean readings for each day (in milligrams per cubic metre) in columns 10, 11 and 12.
